A Spanish teacher for over 30 years, Laurie Clarcq is an insightful and articulate presenter and teacher trainer. She has inspired thousands of students and teachers. Laurie is well known among foreign language educators, a frequent presenter at local, state, national and even international conferences and teacher trainings. As a coach she helps teachers feel safe, comfortable, and confident with their abilities to teach using Comprehensible Input. Laurie is the co-developer of Embedded Reading - a widely used CI teaching strategy which scaffolds reading to meet students at their individual skill levels. A curriculum writer and school consultant, Laurie is also a mom, a blogger, a lover of chocolate, and a world traveler. She holds degrees in Spanish and education and has lived and studied in Salamanca, Spain. Laurie's light-hearted and playful approach to teaching brings out the best in her students of all ages.

YOUR CI JOURNEY — GETTING STRONGER EVERY DAY

William Penn Charter School

3000 W School House Lane, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania 19144

Saturday 20 February, 2016 - 9:00am-3:30pm

In this workshop, Laurie Clarcq reviews a number of basic Comprehensible Input skills and invites developing TPRS teachers to explore their strengths and challenges. Participants are then introduced to a series of more advanced teaching skills that they will practice and discuss. This part of the workshop will be adapted to meet the needs of the participants. Great for someone already in the practice or hoping to get back into a CI mindset. • $95 includes lunch • Click here to register. • Questions? Email: AnnyEwing@Altamira.org.
